

8 January 2010

Dear Parents

It is my intention that Red House School will remain open if at all possible during the current extreme weather conditions.

The vast majority of children have managed to attend school every day this week but road conditions and individual circumstances vary considerably across the region. As parents you will need to decide if it is safe to travel and bring your child/children into school.

Should the weather deteriorate or travel become impossible, forcing me to close the school, a message informing you of the closure will be placed on the school website, www.redhouseschool.co.uk and relayed via BBC Tees.

Yours faithfully

A R W Taylor
Headmaster